

2010 Lapierre Morgon

Many of you purchased the 2009 Morgon and may remember trying to buy more but it was gone in an eyeblink. The 2010 is just as good. Bottled in an unfiltered fashion and with only a hint of sulphur added, it is mouthwateringly delicious with great texture and viscosity. Showing extraordinary complexity, it is a rainbow of spice, berries and floral aromas. This wine is from the heart and reflects a man's belief. Marcel Lapierre passed away last year and his son Mathieu has taken over. The tradition continues. $24.99

2010 Periere Muscadet sur Lie

The well-honed and straight from the heart winemaking skill of Marc Olivier manifests itself beautifully with his Domaine de la Periere. To the delight of purists Olivier hand harvests, uses natural yeasts and bottles with only a very light filtration. His vineyards are comprised of wonderful, nearly 40+ year old vines with a glorious exposition overlooking the Sèvre River. This is a classic seafood pairing and also a superb aperitif. $14.99

2007 Summers Cabernet

Napa Valley makes its name with Cabernet and this has to be one of the better deals going. Boasting plenty of deep, dark fruit and spice, this is a serious wine for a fraction of what wine from this region normally costs. Firm tannins and heady currant aromas make this a perfect selection for London broil or skirt steak over an open fire. If you're entertaining the neighborhood the price will keep you sane. $16.99

2009 Veramonte Chardonnay Reserva

The search never ends for those on the lookout for a solid house chardonnay and here is one for the top of the charts. From the fertile Casablanca Valley, Veramonte offers plenty of well balanced ripe tropical flavors and is perfectly suited for casual meals or as an aperitif. This wine drinks far past its price point, and indeed it is the sort of value we are all constantly tracking down. Wines of this nature are always fun and quite honestly this one is worth a look. $9.99
